

Fluoride Email #3

Subject line: Comprehensive Review of Water Fluoridation: Critical Documentation for Informed Decision-Making

Dear [Recipient],

I am writing again to provide comprehensive documentation regarding water fluoridation, with the intent of supporting an informed and thorough review of current municipal water treatment practices.

I have compiled the following critical documentation for your careful examination:

1. Material Safety Data Sheets (MSDS)
 - Detailed chemical safety documentation from municipal water treatment facilities
 - Specific focus on fluoride additive safety profiles
2. Legal Compliance Analysis
 - Comprehensive review of relevant statutes:
 - Florida Statute 859.01 (Regarding potential water contamination)
 - Florida Statute 381.026 (Informed consent considerations)
3. Regulatory Classification
 - FDA Classification: Fluoride as a regulated drug
 - Official FDA documentation confirms fluoride's classification as a drug subject to federal regulation, not a nutrient

These materials provide a comprehensive overview of the scientific, legal, and regulatory considerations surrounding water fluoridation. I respectfully request a thorough review of the attached documentation.

I am available to discuss these materials in further detail and provide any additional context you may require.

Thank you for your time,
